THE COUNTY CANVASS.

Third Day---Synopsis of the Vigorous Democratic Addresses.

Your correspondent left the city on the excursion train gotten up under the able management of Tim Lee, who knows well how to get up and conduct an excursion to the satisfaction of all, and who caters in prime city style, to all those who patronize him. He had a car fitted up in fine order with ices, eatables and liquors to suit the taste of all, however fastidious. He was out of pocket on fare for passengers $15.00 but it is to be hoped that patronage of his ices and eatable s paid him for his trouble.

The speaking began at 10 o'clock A. M., and before your reporter reached Apex, Col. Russ and J. B. Neathery had finished their short speeches and Mr. Upchurch was announcing himself. Quite a number of prominent gentlemen, among whom were Judges Cox, Strong, Dr. Love, State Auditor, and others were present—there were about three hundred citizens, ten whites to one negro, to witness the speaking. The candidates for county officers on both sides contented the selves with simply announcing themselves, while the aspirants for Senatorial and legislative honors made regular speeches. Candidates for the Senate, in the arrangement agreed on are allowed ne hour and fifteen minutes, for the Legislature twenty minutes, and for county offices ten minutes.

The prominent point dwelt upon generally by the Republicans, was reduction of taxes, and arraying labor against capital, and appealing on subjects to the prejudices and ignorance of the laboring classes, whilst the Democrats were for honest good government.

The seventh speaker was McDonald, who styled himself an independent, and free Union National Republican candidate. He stated that he was a blacksmith, that he served his time as an apprentice under a negro, and that he gloried in having served such apprenticeship.

Mr. Bledsoe followed Mr. McDonald, and announced himself as a free, Independent candidate at solication of influential friends of both parties; stated that there was no difference between the principles of the Democratic and Republican parties, and claimed to be both; charged that Governor Vance was a joker, a buffoon, and that during the war he had authorized his officers to place thumbs of women under fences, to extort a confession of the whereabouts of their husbands, who were deserters from the Confederate army. From beginning to end his whole speech was that of the demagogue. He denounced caucusses, conventions, and Democratic organization and was extravagant in his denunciation of the legal profession, charging that his competitor, Mr. Snow, did not support himself by manual labor, arraying labor against capital, leaning strongly towards communism; was in favor of abolishing the Criminal Court as a useless expense to the county of amending the lien law by repealing the sixty day clause, and restoring petty larceny to the criminal code.

Mr. Snow followed Mr. Bledsoe and stated that Bledsoe had nominated himself; that he was a square Republican with Holden at his back; gave him a severe castigation for his attack on Gov. Vance, saying that Bledsoe had voted for Vance in '76.

Republican Convention made nominations for all the officers except that of Senator, and they failed to make a nomination for this office because they knew that they could not poll the full colored vote for the appointee, and that the only hope of success was to vote for an independent Democrat. This plan was concocted in Holden's office by the leading Republicans, before the Democratic County Convention was held.

Mr. Snow read affidavits filed by Maj Bledsoe stating that he, Bledsoe, could not get justice done him in Wake, and that upon these affidavits, all the civil causes, pending in Wake, involving from $50 to $500, had been removed to Johnston county for trial.

After filing these affidavits, how could he expect, or have the affrontery to ask the people of Wake to vote for him; stated that Moses, for his shortcomings, was only permitted to view, and not to enter the promised land; so with this modern Moses, he could only view the Senate chamber, but would never be permitted to enter it as a member.

Mr. Snow contrasted the expenses of democratic and republican government in the State, showing that under the democratic administration during four years, it cost in round numbers $400,000, while for two years under republican rule it cost over $900 000,00; that in 1869 the republicans appropriated $175,000.00 for educational purposes, and had not paid out one cent, and in 1870, out of an appropriation of $333,000.00, only $38,000 had been expended; that this party had engrafted a debt of $20,000,000.00 on the State, and had invested money appropriated for the support of puplic schools, in special tax bonds; that under democratic administration $175,000 had been received and every dollar expended for the purpose intended by the Legislature; was in favor of the poll tax for educational purposes, and that the legacy he would desire to leave Wake county, was to have all her children educated.

He regretted the necessity forced upon him by Mr. Bledsoe of alluding to personal matters; in '69 he had no earthly possessions, that he had succeeded at the law, in supporting himself and family, solely through the kindness and liberal patronage of the citizens of Wake county, for which he would ever entertain the profoundest gratitude Major Bledsoe had assailed him for being a lawyer and a successful one, when not only Mr. Bledsoe himself was a lawyer, but that he had educated two of his sons to that noble profession, which Mr. Snow was proud of.

Mr. Snow's speech was delivered with great force and eloquence, with telling effect, although he was laboring under severe indisposition, having risen from a sick bed, under treatment of a physician, to deliver his address.

Mr. Bledsoe replied to Mr. Snow, during which a white man behaved very badly to Mr. Bledsoe, who requested the sheriff to arrest the offender, which was done, and while the party was being conveyed to prison, many of the audience followed. Whereupon Mr. Bledsoe stated that at the request of Mr. Snow he had exchanged the time of speaking with that gentleman, and now that Mr. Snow having finished his speech, his friends were breaking up the meeting. At this point a gentleman informed Mr. Bledsoe that Mr. Snow was not then present, but that he would send for him, when Mr. Snow would see that his friends kept quiet. Then Mr. Bledsoe disclaimed having charged Mr. Snow's friends with discourtesy.

Mr. Ferrell, Republican candidate for the Legislature, followed Mr. Bledsoe in a short speech.

Dr. Richardson then addressed the audience in an effective and forcible address, saying that the impending elections involved questions of great importance—the election of Supreme Court Judges—the last remaining vestige of Radical rule in the State, that at present there was no indication that the Republicans had put forward candidates for these important offices, but unless we kept the party organization intact, they might spring candidates in the field at the eleventh hour, and that he wished to warn them of this danger and that the remedy was to stick strictly to the party and discountenance independents; that this was the first opportunity the voters of Wake had to set the seal of condemnation upon the fraudulent election of President Hayes, and he had no doubt of the result.

Magnin, Republican, followed—presenting a circular certifying to his character, signed by prominent democrats; eulogized Senator Merrimon, declaring his purpose to vote for him for United States Senator if he, Magnin, was elected; attacking Gov. Vance bitterly, pronouncing him a joker, a buffoon, and unfit to occupy a seat in the United States Senate; doubted whether the republicans would elect their ticket, but expressed the belief that if any one on that ticket was elected he would be that man.

Mr. Stamps, democratic candidate for the legislature, began his speech in reply to Magnin, in which he showed the circumstances under which that artful dodger had procured the certificate of character from prominent democrats; and showed that when Magnin was out of office and desiring the appointment of magistrates, he had gotten up the circular, and through sympathy, he possessing some good qualifications for that office, these gentlemen signed his petition, addressed to persons in power in his own party, recommending his appointment as justice of the peace; that to this petition was signed by his partner, Mr. Gray, the firm name of Gray & Stamps, of which he, Mr. Stamps, was a member; that this signature was made without his knowledge or consent by his partner Mr. Gray; that Magnin had had this firm name in the circular, printed in large capital letters at the head of the column, with the deliberate purpose of creating the false impression that he, Mr. Stamps, had endorsed his character, when Magnin knew that he, Stamps, had not signed the paper in question. Continuing, Mr. S. said he did not like to deal in personal matters, he could not throw dirt, neither by nature nor education was he fitted for this unpleasant controversy; denounced in unmeasured terms the demagoguism of the Republican candidates; was noncommittal on the subject of next United States Senator, deprecated throwing this fire brand into the county canvass; eulogized Governor Vance for his brilliant and triumphant campaign of '76, like Rupert of old, hurling back the tide of Radicalism; praised Judge Merrimon as a great Senator, the peer of any man in that body; repelled Magnin's charge against him as a carpetbagger; defining what a carpetbagger was; drew a parallel between the Democrat and Republican Legislature; three-fourths of the last Legislature were Democrats, and the Republicans had necessarily no influence, and that if Wake county elected Republicans, which he did not believe, they would have no influence on legislation, and that this was an additional reason why the Democrats should be elected. His purpose was to discuss living issues, national, State and county, from figures furnished by the treasurer of the county; was not an expense; if this court was abolished, all criminal cases in the future would be conducted by a negro solicitor, and he had had only one case in court; desired to see the time when the colored man would disregard the dictation of party and vote from convictions; charged that the hard times, low price of cotton and farm products, was due to proscriptive, protective tariff by the authorities at Washington. He closed by an eloquent classical allusion to a great warrior, who had by his conquests, extended the dominions over a great extent of territory, and had built at its confines great pillars surmounted with trumpets so constructed that the wind would give forth sounds in passing through to the traveller, that beyond was danger; he would warn them of the great danger of the continuation of Radical rule.

This speech was delivered with great force. The arguments used were overwhelming, the eloquence unsurpassed, and for earnestness of manner and belief in the great truths so forcibly put forth could not be surpassed.

Mr. Wynne followed Mr. Stamps, in a speech which he tried to make witty, by endeavoring to pun on his name.

Col. Stevenson next spoke; reviewed; some of his constituents had objected to two of his votes in the legislature; showed that the votes alluded to were against his judgment, but were cast in accordance with the action of the caucus of the Democratic party; Elected, he would pursue the same course. In the election of United States Senator, he would vote for the caucus nominee.

Stewart Ellison, colored, followed, saying, he was in advance of all the other speeches, on the subject of electing a United States Senator; he had voted for Merrimon before, he would not now say that he would vote for Judge Merrimon again; the reason the Republicon party was defeated in '74 was because they had to carry the dead weight of civil rights, social equality and negro supremacy;

Mr. Olive, Democrat, closed the speaking, saying the great issue to the county, was whether it should be governed by Democrats or Republicans; reviewed the history of the corruption and fraud practiced by the Republican party, its despotic millitary rule, the object of which was to terrify the people, carry the elections and perpetuate its power; Republican rule costs more than Democratic; as the Democrats gain power, the expenses of conducting the government, national, State and county, are greatly and rapidly reduced. He alluded to educational enterprises, inaugurated and being successfully conducted by the Democratic party of the State. The principles of the party and the practices of its officials are right, while those of the other were wrong.

He showed conclusively that honest Bob Wynne, notwithstanding his denial of the published charges in yesterday's issue of the News, was guilty of voting the people's money to pay the miserable so-called militia for committing all sorts of diabolical outrages.

STATE NORMAL SCHOOL.

The Teachers' Union---Lecture by Miss Coe, on Form and Colors.

By Special Reporter to the News.

CHAPEL HILL, July 12.

To-day I visited the geography and arithmetic recitation. The subject under discussion in the former room was the rainfall, which is greatest near the coast and decreases as one approaches the inland. Interest was the topic of the arithmetical discussion. A meeting of the North Carolina Teachers' Association was held to-day for the purpose of electing officers. The officers as reported by the committee on organizations were all unanimously elected, except the Vice-President who will be elected in future, as will the important committees.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

President—Kemp P Battle, LL D.
Secretary—Jno E Dugger, A M.
Assistant Secretary—Prof B W Hatcher.
Treasurer—Prof A McIver.

The election of Dr. Battle was a just tribute to his ceaseless vigilance, his untiring energy, his unending devotion, his loyal patriotism, his manly support of all that pertains to the advancement of the brain work of our State. On taking his seat Dr. Battle, in earnest sympathy with the work in hand, spoke cheerfully of the future education, enjoined co-operation. His short talk made a good impression. The co-operation of the principals and assistants of the Colleges, academies and schools in North Carolina is earnestly solicited.

A Committee of Bureau has been established, whose duty is to keep pace with the positions and teachers in the State so as to aid in filling vacancies and in securing work for teachers. A committee of three was appointed to take into consideration the advisability of establishing an educational journal.

This body is gaing to work. A committee will memorialize the Legislature.

Miss Coe lectured to-night on Form and Color. Her lecture was made plainer by the introduction of drawings and various illustrations. Miss Coe is the greatest Kindergartener in the United States.

Rev. Calvin H. Wiley will lecture to-morrow night. Subject, "North Corolina; What it ought to be, and how to make it so."

Professor J Madison Watson, of New York City, left our quiet village to-day. F. D. W.

Heavy Shipments.

Beaufort Atlantic.

In the past, and early during the coming week, there will have been shipped from one section of this county more than 40,000 watermelons to Northern ports. Six or eight schooners are now loading or preparing to load, and others are expected in a few days. The principal shippers are Messrs. Coleburn, Oglesby, Eaton, and James, and we are glad to learn that the probabilities are that the melons will bring good prices. Watermelons are beginning to be a source of considerable revenue to our county, and we confidently anticipate that the crop will be increased every year.

Mr. W. B. Coleburn was the pioneer in this line. When he came to this county a few years since we do not think that a watermelon had ever been shipped to a northern port, but now these shipments are numbered by thousands.

Establishment of a Government for the Island of Cyprus.

By Cable to the News.

LONDON, July 13.—The government is busy with details of the military and civil establishments in the Island of Cyprus. The appointment of Postmasters and other officials for the government of the Island is announced. Sir Garnet Wolsely has already under consideration the scheme of a financial company for introducing railways on the island. Arrangements are being made for laying a new sub marine cable to Alexandria which give direct communication with England. Among the schemes brought to the surface by the English occupation is that of the Euphrates Valley Railway. The Duke of Sutherland and others are in active communication with the government on the subject, and it is stated that if, within a reasonable time, it appears that the Anglo-Turkish convention is successful, it is possible the country will be asked to give a guarantee for the proposed railway.

The Peace Treaty.

By Cable to the News.

LONDON, July 13.—The treaty of peace contains sixty clauses; it is reported to be the longest ever known.

A Berlin dispatch says that during the discussion relative to the boundaries of Bayazid valley, the Russians suddenly claimed the peace of Zewin. Claim disallowed.

Embezzlement.

BOSTON, July 13.—Embezzlement of John W. Bawker, the missing Cashier of the Eastern Railroad amounts to twenty thousand dollars. There is no clue to his whereabouts.

Nomination for Congress.

CINCINNATI, July 13.—The Democrats of the Fifth District nominated Benjamin Lefevre for Congress.

The Dangers.

Rockingham Bee.

There is such a spirit of unrest one would almost conclude that no party (with the prospect) could bear success. The "grand old party" that achieved such a victory in 1876, is now, it seems, being rent and divided out among selfish and in some instances senseless politicians. It has been going on ever since the last Legislature deliberately handed out a third of the loaf to the Republicans in the appointment of Justices of the Peace. "Independents" are out in several of the counties; some have had no conventions at all. Col. John R. Winston, of Caldwell county, announces his candidacy as a representative of the National party, it is rumored that Robbins will come out independent against Armfield for Congress. Cabarrus county is in a stew between Odell and Means. Moore county has a "New Party" of farmers and mechanics, the extremist in Richmond, shouted on by the Republicans, it seems, can not see the wisdom of harmony and unity and the dangers that lurk in their own path by a refusal to support the nominees. Robeson has two independents.

What does it all mean?

NATIVE INGENUITY.

A Wonderful and Useful Railroad Invention.

Correspondence of the News.

MOCKSVILLE, July 12.

There is on exhibition at Salisbury one of the most wonderful and useful inventions of the age, a self-acting railway switch and frog, patented by Mr. William A. Weant, of Mocksville, Davie county, N. C.

The invention does away with the use of switchmen being employed by railroads. It is so constructed that the engineer of the train has perfect control of the switch on the road, and if the switch should be left open by the preceding train, the engineer can set it without even checking up the speed of his train, and be certain his train will not be in danger of running off the track.

This is one of the most wonderful inventions of the age; it is indeed "mirabile dictu." Whenever this invention shall be adopted by the Railroads in this country, thousands and thousands of dollars will be saved annually in the operating expenses of the roads. The State of North Carolina alone, by the use of this switch, would save annually over forty thousand dollars.

All those acquainted with railroads know that the old frog, on the roads heretofore, has caused more trouble and expense in operating roads than any one item in the cost of running trains. This item of expense alone is worth thousands of dollars to the roads.

The item of forty thousand dollars saved by the State in one year, above alluded to, was in the item of switchmen; and the item of saving by the use of the frog in this switch would probably double this amount, making one hundred thousand dollars saved annually by using this switch.

I think the State of North Carolina would be doing nothing but justice to the inventor, to purchase a right to this wonderful invention, after having it thoroughly tested by practicable railroad men

This man has a wonderful inventive mind, for he not only has this patent, but several others, equally as useful and beneficial to mankind. His patent "Baby Crib" is certainly another useful invention. And his patent "Musquito Bed" is also another useful invention, and if introduced in musquito countries would find ready sale.

DAVIE.

INDEPENDENTS.

Greensboro North State.

Maurice Q. Waddell, of Chatham county, is out as an independent candidate against Moring, the Democratic nominee for the House in that county. The woods are full of them.

Will Retire.

Salisbury Watchman.

We have heard that Paul B. Means, Esq., will withdraw from the contest between Mr. Odell and himself.

Jimmy Leach.

Greensboro State.

General James Madison Leach having broken up the Court House Ring ticket in Davidson county and had himself nominated, is now called the R. R. R. candidate,—Royal Ringtail Roarer.

Davidson Politics.

Davidson Record.

It will be remembered that A. H. Kendal, for the Senate, and J. H. Miller and S. A. Mock for the House of Representatives, was the ticket put out by the late county convention. Kendall and Miller were present in the convention and accepted their nominations—Mock did not. When the time came for the Legislative candidates to announce themselves, Gen. Leach appeared for the Senate, and A. H. Kendal and Capt. Frank Smith for the House. It will thus be seen that the whole Legislative ticket nominated by the convention has disappeared. By what authority all this change has been effected we are not informed. Neither did the retiring candidates nor the new ones explain it. It will probably remain a mystery.

The Campaign.

Davidson Record, 11th.

The county campaign opened at this place on yesterday. Candidates were as numerous as blackbirds. There were numerous independents and non-committals. A voter need not be at much trouble to chose from so large a number and so varied qualities.

The following gentlemen announced themselves for the following positions, viz: For the Senate, Hon. J. M. Leach and Jno. Michael, Esq. For the House of Representatives, A. H. Kendall, and Geo. F. Smith, Esq., on the democratic side and S. Alex. Cectil, P. C Thomas and Jones Miller on the radical side.

First District Convention.

Elizabeth City Carolinian.

The Chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee has issued a call for the District Convention, to nominate a candidate for Congress, to be held at Edenton on Thursday, the 8th of August. The Republicans will probably theirs bout the 22nd.

Stokes Democrats.

Winston Sentinel.

We are glad to learn that our friends in Stokes are alive and hard at work with the determination to win. Stokes is largely Democratic, and harmony is all that is necessary to elect the entire ticket.

Words of Truth.

Greensboro Patriot.

If the Conservative who runs independent believes that he is not helping the Radicals by so doing he had better wake from that delusion before he has done the mischief that he cannot undo.

Ladies who have pale complexions, Blotches and pimples on the face, rough skin or Freckles, should use Dr. Bull's Blood Mixture.

OCEAN EXCURSION.

A Sail Out to Sea From Beaufort.

Correspondence to the News.

OCEAN VIEW HOTEL,
BEAUFORT, July 11.

There will be an excursion to the end of Lookout Shoals on Tuesday, July 16th. The large, new and fine schooner Wade Hampton, Capt. John Sabiston, will leave the Ocean View Hotel wharf early on said morning. The excursionists will have ample time to visit Cape Lookout lighthouse, and view old ocean in her sublimity.

Music will be on hand, and all who delight in tripping the light "fantastic," will have an opportunity.

A large number of our citizens will go, and the guests of the hotels and boarding houses will also participate. The fare will be low—fifty cents for the round trip.

Parties from Raleigh, and elsewhere, who come down and stop at the Ocean View Hotel, and desire to go on the excursion, will be furnished with free tickets. Ice water will be furnished free of charge. Lemonade, ice cream, &c., will be on sale. Our Raleigh friends will have the advantage of a thirty miles' sail to sea for a trifle; let them come and make acquaintance with old Neptune.

SALEM AND WINSTON.

False Reports Regarding the Health of the Twin-Towns.

Correspondence of the News.

SALEM, July 12.

About six weeks ago a case of scarlet fever was brought here from the neighborhood of Hillsboro. The disease was not recognized, as no physician was summoned to attend the case. Two children who had visited the house, were in due time affected with scarlet fever. From there the disease was communicated to six others. Of eight cases, four have died. The disease shows no disposition to become epidemic, and as the most vigorous quarantine and sanitary regulations have been adopted, the alarm occasioned by the appearance of this scourge amongst us has entirely subsided. There are no cases at present, and we expect no more. The health of our two communities, is as usual, remarkably good, all malicious reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

TRINITY COLLEGE.

Opening of the Kindergarten.

Special Telegram to the News.

TRINITY COLLEGE, July 13.

Mrs. Pollock and her daughter, Miss Susie Pollock, arrived to-day from Washington, D. C. They will commence their Kindergarten instruction Monday morning. A general invitation is extended to come and hear and see their method of instruction.

Talk Between A Boston Banke and a Virginia Farmer.

Reidsville Times.

The other day, as Major Sutherlin, in farmer's dress, was going to his farm at Sutherlin's, a yankee in smart dress sat down by him on the train and asked how's the times down here. The Major told him so so, and asked how they were with him, he had already blown out of him that he was a Boston banker. Oh, said the yank, the times were terrible in Boston, the factories were all closed, machinery idle, and no money afloat.

"Don't your banks have money?" asked Sutherlin.

"Oh, yes, but there's no security to put it out on."

"Ain't your factories and machinery good security?"

"No, sir."

The train was blowing for Sutherlin's. "Well," said Sutherlin, "this thing will end itself in a year or two, if there isn't a change."

"How," asked the yankee.

"Why, some fine morning in Boston, about one hundred of you fellows will wake up and find yourselves hanging to lampposts, and a corresponding number in the other large cities will find the same thing, and then the country will wag on as smooth as ever; well, good day, I get off here."

"Say! say!" said the yankee, running to the car door, "come back, come back! You've left me in a hell of a fix, swinging to a lamp post." But the cars sped on.

Class Appeals.

Salisbury Watchman.

Mr. J. C. Foard has issued a circular "to the Farmers and Mechanics of Rowan and Davie," offering himself as a candidate for the Senate, The burden of his message is that the farmers and mechanics must take legislative matters in their own hands, in order to correct the evils of the times. If we are not mistaken the farmers have been largely in the majority of every legislature for the last ten years. Farmers, mechanics and merchants have had about a two-thirds majority all the time.

How About That?

Wilmington Star.

We see it stated now and then in some of the Democratic papers that the party does not belong to Vance or to Merrimon, or to any other man, and that the Legislature may elect some other gentlemen to the Senate without detriment to the party. That's so. But suppose that body should be governed by a like principle when they come to elect a public printer? We shudder to think of the result.

What Ailed Him.

Old Paper.

"I'll bet a sheep," said an old farmer to his wife, "that our boy Zekiel is going crazy!" "Why, what on earth makes you think so?" exclaimed the alarmed mother. "Cause he's grinning at the cart, and grinning at the pump, and grinning at the barn, and grinning at the oxen, and grinning at everythings." "Nonsense!" said the experienced matron: "Don't you know he received a love letter this morning?"

The Head Centre.

Charlotte Home.

Some papers are very brave when a small independent pops up for the Legislature, and they jump him right away. Merrimon is the biggest boiter and disorganizer in the State, and they won't touch him. There is no consistency in such doings. Are they afraid of Mr. Merrimon and his patronage?

The Eight Hour Law.

Washington Post.

Attorney General Devens is refreshingly honest and candid. He decides the eight-hour law means that an employee of the Government contracts to work eight out of the twenty-four, but that if he chooses to work ten he should be paid for ten. The next question of interest would seem to be whether the price of a day's work on the new standard is less than it was under the old. When that is answered we shall know how much good the eight-hour law has done.

The Potter Committee.

By Telegraph to the News

WASHINGTON, July 13—Kellogg testified that he met the visiting statesmen while in New Orleans; Parlor P. at the St. Charles Hotel was their rendezvous. He rarely went their without meeting some of them. He had no knowledge of any letter or telegrams being sent from Columbus, Ohio, by Governor Hayes to any member or members of the Returning Board during the count.

South Carolina Independents.

Salisbury Watchman.

Strange as it may seem, "independents" are said to be popping up all over South Carolina. Totally forgetful of the terrible gloom from which the State has so recently escaped by the united efforts of the Conservative people, they now seem ready to risk it all in their greedy pursuit of office. They will sow the wind and reap the whirlwind.

The Republicans.

Rockingham Bee.

Having no system of organization, are resorting to tricks, intrigues and soft soaping measures to divide, disaffect and tear assunder the Democratic organization. This is their tactics, their strategy, and judging from appearances, some are bending down the ear to catch the deceptive siren song.

The Question.

Rockingham Bee.

Is it right to disrupt, disintegrate, divide and ruin the Democratic party simply because you did not get your choice? The majority rule; we think it fortunate that hot blood is cooling down, and believe returning reason will displace the troubles and assuage the passions.

Ladies' Fashion Notes.

New York Tribune.

Bands of tucks, puffs and ruffles can be bought as cheap as the plain material.

Vests for ladies are much in favor, as they do away with wraps in the street.

Handsome embroidered French fichus have been reduced from $40 to $12.

Silver jewelry still continues in favor, and the finest of filagree work can be found.

A very curious but perfect imitation of a black lace-covered fan is among the novelties.

Linen handkerchiefs with bright-colored dots are the latest novelty in lingerie at Stewart's.

There never was a greater variety of ruffilling than at present, and at exceedingly low prices.

Fancy sun umbrellas of ecru pongee, lined with dark colors, are very fashionable for gentlemen this summer.

Ladies again wear the hair in the Grecian coil in favor a few years ago, and which was so universally becoming.

The Japanese umbrella is the favorite sunshade at the mountains and seaside, and makes the face look picturesque beneath.

The newest scarfs for gentlemen are of figured lawn, with an imitation of an English pug's head embroidered upon them to resemble a pin.

The favorite hat for little girls is the low-crowned, broad-brimmed hat, decorated with a wreath of wild blossoms, and called the "May Queen."

Silvery-white brocade of ivy leaves, with veins of gold upon a background of navy blue, is a new fabric, designed for evening dresses, at Stewart's.

One of the newest styles of hosiery is of black silk, with the feet embroidered in Jacqueminot red diamonds, surrounded by miniature diamonds of white.

Something Worth Attention.

Consigners of county produce should ship to A. C. Sanders & Co., because they are the only commission merchants in Raleigh. They do not buy at all on their own account, but make prompt returns, at the same prices they sell at, which are the highest this market affords. *

Congressional Nominations.

FOR CONGRESS, THIRD DISTRICT.
ALFRED M, WADDELL,
of New Hanover.

FOR CONGRESS, SEVENTH DISTRICT,
ROBERT F. ARMFIELD,
of Iredell.

ELECTION, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 5TH.

Congressional Convention.

A Convention of the Democrats and Conservatives of the Fourth District, will be held in the city of Raleigh, on Thursday the 22nd day of August next, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Congress. Each county will be entitled to one vote for every one hundred votes and fractional part over fifty, given for Gov. Vance in 1876.

By order of District Ex. Committee,

H. A. LONDON, Jr.
July 2, 1878. Chairman.

The Democratic papers in the District will please copy.

IF Governor Vance has no more real merit and popular strength than General Clingman allows him, whence the necessity of the "suggestion that the State should not be put in commotion for his gratification."

THOSE Democrats who went around throwing up their hats and shouting "Vance" in 1876, will feel, by the time they are through reading General Clingman in his pamphlets and the Observer, that they made confounded fools of themselves throughout a campaign which Governor Vance came very near breaking down.

GENERAL CLINGMAN complains of the unfairness of the News in not publishing his hand to mouth interview with another paper in this city, before telephonic interview in the organ through which he fulminates, the News will cheerfully republish the hand to mouth interview from the files of that paper, and throw in this late reply of the General as boot. Now what say you to that?

"HOLD Robeson and save the State" was pronounced good tactics in 1875. But General Clingman did more in 1864, He held Vance and saved the Confederacy; and this is w he said he did it:—

In the early part of 1864 I was apprised that certain prominent Democrats were preparing to call a Convention to nominate a Democratic candidate for the office of Governor. Apprehending that if Vance were thus defeated, he and his friends would become disaffected to the Confederate cause and unite with Holden, I published a letter strongly urging the support of Gov. Vance. Several of these gentlemen told me afterwards that the publication of my letter caused them to abandon the movement.

GENERAL CLINGMAN makes an interesting reminiscence of his long political life, but avoids the particulars of its close. He refers to his nomination and election to the Convention from Buncombe in 1875, but omits to say anything about starting "at the head of the ticket," and how "he got down to the tail" when the votes were counted. There were said to have been "formidable personal objections to him" in Buncombe, which come near defeating him, and with the united effort of the Buncombe Democracy he was only pulled through by some seventy majority. "In a retreat the rear, as a place of danger, is to be sought, but in an advancing charge, the front is the post of honor," says General Clingman. Was he retreating or charging in Buncombe in 1875? Some one has said the post of honor is the private station. Was the General seeking that position in his last Buncombe campaign?

BY way of inviting another interview by telephone, ex-Senator Clingman says to the Observer:—"Should I again be assailed, I may ask your further kindness to reply." He cannot be gratified just now. According to General Clingman there is but one man in the State of the intellectual capacity to "interview" him telephonically, and for the present he is out of town. On his return, the News may be able to present the views of the ex-Senator again through telephone.

FROM time to time, on the public works of the State, at the Penitentiary and in county work-houses, comes news of attempted escapes by convicts, in which it not unfrequently happens that some one or more are shot and killed by the guards. The News would like to inquire if, in cases of this kind, the Coroner's inquest is always held? And if so, why is not the public apprised of the findings of the Coroner's jury? These are matters of some moment to the public. Something is said in our charter of rights about life, liberty and property not being taken without due process of law. The law requires that the circumstances attending every violent death shall be most minutely inquired into, and fully made known to the public. We have now no establishments in the State above the law.

GEN. Clingman now, for the first time, draws the line between the Jury of the Public and his "Jury of the Legislature." He says:—

"There are more than one hundred and twenty thousand Democrats in the State who like myself have not, since the war, been candidates for any high office, but have steadily labored for the promotion of others. If in spite of this we are to be denied the privilege of even publicly expressing our opinions, we may conclude to change our line of action, and thus perhaps convince certain gentlemen that they neither own the State nor even all its offices." It will be remembered that he laid it down that the "Jury of the Legislature" should have no opinion of their own nor hear any expressed. But considering himself, and one hundred and nineteen thousand, nine hundred and ninety-nine other Democrats, who have sought no office, to be of the "Jury of the Public," says they have opinions to express, and must not be denied the privilege of expressing them, or there will be a verdict settling the title of certain gentlemen to the State and its offices. When the General was interviewed he was not quite certain upon which jury he would be drawn, whether the Jury of the Public, or the Jury of the Legislature, and he governed himself accordingly. He has, however, now ascertained himself to be on the Jury of the Public, where he is not likely to be challenged or excepted to, and is not, therefore, so careful as he was about forming and expressing opinions.

Singular Unpopularity of Vance.

Who nominated Vance in 1876? Why was it done? How many counties were represented in the June convention of the Democracy? What was the fragment of the vote that Vance received on the first ballot? How came he to be declared the nominee? Was there not one county and a portion of another voting for somebody else? These are matters of such recent date that General Clingman omits all reference to them, but they are of interest to the people, nevertheless. Especially in view of the awful record which Vance develops.

General Clingman positively declining the office of Governor in 1862. Colonel Vance gladly took it as the best way to "get out of the infernal war," his appeals to Tod R. Caldwell, Esq., having failed to extricate him. That term expiring, he was about to go with Holden, and burst up the Confederacy, when General Clingman gallantly came to the rescue, and persuading the Democrats to call no convention, but let Vance hold on to the Governorship, held on to him, foiled Holden and saved the Confederacy. Little did the people think what a traitor they were harboring in the State House. When the old women of the State were getging their cotton cards through the blockade, the people salt, soldiers wives and suffering families drawing provisions, the North Carolina soldiers in the field getting clothes, shoes and provisions, the best clad and best fed troops in the Southern army, little did they or any one but General Clingman know that it was all due to his facility for letter writing, and his self-sacrificing devotion.

And after the war, when the people wanted Governor Vance to run and defeat Holden, he would not move a peg; but when the victory had been won, late in 1870, he stepped forward and took the Senatorship. Who gave it to him? Did General Clingman write another letter to hold Vance and save the State in 1870? And having taken the Senatorship against the will of the Democrats, "and held over under the circumstances stated by Senator Merrimon," the people must have been greatly offended with him. Yet how did it happen that the Democratic caucus in 1872 again nominated him for United States Senator; and why were the people so unanimous for his election? And when it came to choosing a Governor four years later, such unanimity never had been seen in the previous history of political parties in the State.

For a man utterly without merit of any sort, possessing no popularity, and so dead a weight that the combined strength of the Democratic party was barely sufficient to carry him through the exciting campaign of 1876, these things are not a little remarkable, and are significant of something more than simply "due to his good luck or to his excessive greediness and industrious electioneering." General Clingman tells much, but he does not tell enough. The public, like Oliver Twist, wants more. The General must be telephoned again.

Ways to the West.

To Western North Carolina from Raleigh and the interior, there are four routes by rail open to the public, by three of which the fare is the same, and over that by all rail through South Western Virginia and East Tennessee, but two dollars more than the others.

The routes referred to are the Raleigh and Augusta Air Line by way of Charlotte and Statesville to Henry and Asheville; the North Carolina Railroad by way of Charlotte, Spartanburg and Hendersonville to Asheville; the North Carolina Railroad by way of Salisbury and Henry to Asheville; and the North Carolina Railroad by way of Greensboro, Danville, Lynchburg, Bristol, Morristown and Wolf Creek, the railroad terminus near the North Carolina line.

By these routes under present schedules trains leave here at five o'clock twenty-five and thirty minutes in the afternoon, and have their choice of day or night routes up the Western North Carolina Railroad from Salisbury and Charlotte, the day route being preferable to the night for those who care for the scenery, and are not pressed for time. The sharp competition developed between the several lines, assures the traveller of good accommodations on all, and really there is little preference between them. The Raleigh and Augusta Air-Line, to which special reference has not before been made, is the new and popular route to Charlotte, is splendidly equipped and makes good time. As over the other routes the round trip tickets are good until the middle of November, and for sale at the principal offices of the company, and tickets by way of Spartanburg and Hendersonville over this route, are also on sale.

The tourist and the pleasure seeker have ample facilities for penetrating the mountains of Western North Carolina this year, and the trip will well pay every one who has the time and the money to spare. The various railroad and stage lines are to be publicly thanked for the facilities they have made, as thus our people are induced to visit the places of interest in their own State instead of going abroad to other States of less magnificence.

Effects of the Political Telephone.

Honorable Thomas L. Clingman rises to what may be termed a question of telephonic privilege, and to the amazement of the public takes in sober earnest what was meant for a really good joke, and in a two column letter, to the Observer, replies in serious, not to say caustic mood.

Having heard it suggested that the telephonic interview extraordinary, in the News, was the performance of Governor Vance, General Clingman makes that his excuse or justification for noticing it. General Clingman is among those who have been loudly vociferating that the State of North Carolina and the Democratic party either belonged to Governor Vance, when no one had asserted that they did; yet he is among the first to give Governor Vance, at the expense of the balance of the State, a monopoly of all the wit, knowledge and ability, sufficient to produce a would-be funny newspaper article, of no very high order of merit. If Governor Vance be the only man in North Carolina of sufficient knowledge of politics and men, and of the sole intellectual capacity to have produced the article, published as a telephonic interview with General Clingman, then it is no longer a question that he is the only man now in the State to send to the Senate of the United States.

The public will be surprised to learn, as it will from this reply extraordinary of General Clingman, printed and circulated as a Senatorial campaign document throughout the State, how absolutely weak, trifling, false, of no account and of bad record, that once popular man, Zeb. Vance, really is. It will be news to the old soldiers of his command that Colonel Vance was a skulker out of the war; and that the North Carolina soldiers who were not slow to take the measure of a man, should have so idolized this one, worshipped and voted for him, as no man ever was worshipped and voted for before, is one of the most remarkable instances of misplaced confidence and affection, on record. And their blind infatuation throughout the war, and that of the people since, can only be accounted for by reason of the fact that General Clingman has only lately assumed the role of a personal and political pamphleteer and documentary campaigner in the preliminary contest for United States Senatorship.

It must have been a bitter reflection to Governor Vance throughout the contest of 1876, that he was a dead weight to that campaign, and if, as is now so apparent, he was not only not the choice of the people for Governor, but so absolutely distasteful to them that it required the combined efforts of ten electors, eight candidates for Congress, fifty candidates for the State Senate, a hundred and twenty stumpers for the House, and an average of a dozen candidates for local offices in each of the ninety odd counties, to say nothing of the volunteers like General Clingman, the newspapers, the efforts of the State, district and county executive committees to pull him through, and after all he merely got in by the skin of his tail, Governor Vance could not do a more graceful thing than throw up the office of Governor now, and retire, once and for all, to the everlasting shades of private life.

Sore Heads.

It is time for some newspapers and individuals to lay aside their private grudges and quit scratchihg their sore heads. Let them sit squarely down on all itching candidates of the Independent pursuasion, though they be as big as Augustus Merrimon; the successor of the great principles of the Democratic party is certain.

H. A. STRODE (MATH MEDALIST, U. Va.) Principal and Instructor in Mathematics, H. C. Brock, (A. B., Lit. U. Va., (recently Asst. Ins. Latin, U. Va.,) Associate Instructor. This School is strictly preparatory to the University of Virginia, and embraces in its course every branch taught in the High Schools of the State.

For testimonials as to its general character, and particularly as to its discipline, its high moral tone, and the success of its students, see the Catalogues.

TERMS FOR HALF SESSION:

BOARD AND TUITION ..... $125.

This charge may be reduced in many cases to $85, by boarding in private families near the School. Seventh session begins September 12th, 1878.

TESTIMONIAL.

The success which the Kenmore High School has achieved under the energetic and conscientious administration of the Principal and his able Assistant, and the preparation and training of its pupils, who have entered the University of Virginia, have fully justified the recommendation of this excellent School to the public, at its beginning. I regard it as a very successful educational foundation, and I trust it will continue for many years to do its good work for our State and country.

The Bingham School,

Mebaneville, N. C., surpasses all other similar Schools in the South: 1st, in age; 2d, in the character of its buildings; 3d, in numbers; 4th, in area of patronage; 5th, in ability to provide profitable employment for its proficient pupils; and 6th, while other expenses are rather below the average, this North Carolina School commands somewhat higher tuition fees than any other institution of learning of any grade, for males, in the Southern States. These facts make other testimonials unnecessary.

Xanthine Co., Richmond, Va.:

I have used the Xanthine now for three years, and have induced others to try it, and have never known it to fail in accomplishing all you claim for it. It is an excellent tonic a pleasant dressing, removing and preventing dandruff and all unpleasant itching, promoting and preserving the natural growth and color of the hair, and rendering it glossy and pliable. I confidently, cheerfully and knowingly recommend it.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

——To-morrow is Saint Swithin's Day.

——The city remains quiet. There were no cases in the Mayor's Court yesterday.

——The great iron bridge over the Roanoke, at Weldon, is being painted in white.

——Meeting of Hiram Lodge to-morrow night at 8'clock. Prompt attendance is desired.

——Lena White, a colored woman, put in jail a day or since for failure to give bond, was released yesterday.

——A child of Mr. Grausman, Esq., fell insensible yesterday morning, but two physicians being summoned, was happily restored to consciousness.

For a Good Purpose.

The Grand Excursion from Greensboro to Beaufort, in behalf of the new Methodist Church of this city, is now a fixed fact, to go down on Tuesday, August 13th, and return on Friday, August 16th. The price of railroad fare and board will be very low, and no effort will be spared to make it a pleasant trip to all who go. Favorable arrangements will be made for persons living on the Raleigh & Gaston, Raleigh & Augusta Air Line, Salem branch, and the North Carolina Railroad above Greensboro, and at all points from Greensboro to New Berne, to join the excursion.

The management of the affair is in the hands of a large committee of prominent citizens, and we predict a most enjoyable time and a grand success.

Movement of Cotton in Raleigh

Receipts for the week ending July 12th, 1878.	22 "
Receipts for same week last year.	140 "
Decrease in receipts for month this year.	118 "
Whole receipts from 1st September to date,	44,496 "
Whole receipts same time last year,	43,356 "
Increase in receipts this year to date.	1,140 "

Receipts for week have been unusually light and little has been done. We note sale of small lots full middling at 10¾c. This week last year the market was active at 11½c. The prospects of the growing crop has improved, and though the plant is small, it is healthy and growing radidly.

The Choicest of All.

A day or so since mention was made of a contribution of choice Irish potatoes by A. W. Graham, Esq., of Orange. These specimens of the tubers are thrown in the shade by some of the "Peerless" variety, sent in yesterday; twelve of which have a weight of 1 lb. doz. Shese speeimens are at the Agricultural Museum.

Supreme Court.

Court met at 9 o'clock on yesterday—all the Justices present.

Call of appeals from the 6th District was resumed.

L C Edwards vs Archibald Kearzey. from Granville; argued, upon motion for judgment, upon the Mandate of the United States Supreme Court. J B Batchelor and E G Haywood for the plaintiff, and A W Tourgee for the defendant.

State vs. J C Parish, from Wake; argued for the plaintiff by the Attorney General, W H Pace and D G Fowle, and for the defendant, by T M Argo.

Court adjourned until 9 o'clock tomorrow, (Monday) morning, when appeals set for hearing at the end of the docket will be taken up.

Radical Convention in Wayne Yesterday.

We learn that the Radicals of Wayne held their nominating convention yesterday. Ex-Sheriff Deans, and a Mr. Grantham, from about Dudley's Depot, were nominated for the House of Representatives. John R. Smith, one of the faithful, was set apart for the position of Sheriff. What a defeat awaits poor John by the present worthy Sheriff, D. A. Grantham. Mr. Robinson, at present assistant postmaster at Goldsboro, was named for clerk of the Superior Court, and a Mr. Hollowell was nominated for Register of Deeds. We learn that everything passed off just so-so, i. e., up to the hour our reporter left the scene.

Stockholders Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Stockholders of the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad will be held at the office of the company in this city on Thursday next, the 18th. We are glad to learn that the exhibit of the earnings of this substantial old road will be very gratifying to those interested, giving tangible evidence of the efficient and judicious management of the road. The Stockholders of the Raleigh & Augusta Railroad meet the same day. The completion of this road has opened up a new through route South and West, that promises to be a very important one to the State and the public generally.

Doing Good.

The Young Men's Christian Association have had a number of the following cards neatly printed, and are handing them to the young men of our city We learn the meetings are largely attended, and are very interesting:

Prayer meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association, at hall over Branson's bookstore, every Sunday at 5½ o'clock p m. Service forty-five minutes. You are cordially invited to attend. "Come thou with us, and we will do thee good."—Numbers, 10:20.

Revenue Collections.

Internal Revenue receipts in 4th District of North Carolina, for week ending July 13th, 1878.

Monday,	$ 1,425 04;
Tuesday,	2 664.97;
Wednesday,	1,749.85;
Thursday,	851.96;
Friday,	805.88,
Saturday,	11,607 00;
Total,	$ 18,404.70.

Another Excursion.

There will be an excursion to Carey to-morrow morning. The train will leave Hargett St. Station at 8½ o'clock a. m., returning at 6 o'clock p. m.

The Democrats who attended the speaking at Apex on yesterday, did noble work. We hope a large number of our best men will attend again, and serve their country by encouraging our candidates by their presence. Round trip tickets will be sold for fifty cents.

Personals.

Rev J M Atkinson, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, after an absence of two weeks in the Western part of the State, has returned, and will occupy his pulpit to-day.

W T Blackwell, Esq., of Durham, the great tobacconist, is in the city.

Col. T M Holt, of Haw River, is at the Yarbrough.

Col J N Bunting, after a brief yet severe illness, has so far recovered as to be able to go to his plantation in the county.

Supreme Dulness.

Never was Raleigh so deserted as now. The very general exodus of fashionables to the watering places has taken away a large portion of the population. Those left court the shade and seclusion of the houses. The result is that the streets look forlornly vacant. Familiar faces are missed.

Magistrates Court.

One Susan Smith, colored, appeared before Justice Whitaker and took out a peace warrant against Artelia Dunn, also colored. The case was tried, and the result was that the prosecutrix, defendant, and principal witness, were all bound over to keep the peace.

Glen Alpine Springs.

We have been invited to a grand opening ball at this popular summer resort, to be given on Wednesday evening, July 24th. The honorary and floor managers are gentlemen of much prominence, and the affair will doubtless be greatly enjoyable.

Next.

Joseph A. Haywood, Esq., presented to-day to the North Carolina Museum, 12 Irish potatoes, "Peerless." The 12 potatoes weighed 12 lbs. 7 ounces. One of this lot weighs 26¾ ounces. They were raised in Wake county. Hurrah for Wake.

Religious Notes.

Rev. A. C. Dixon, pastor of the Baptist Church at Chapel Hill, will this morning occupy the pulpit of the Salisbury Street Church, taking as the subject of his sermon, "Our relations, as citizens and christians, to Dancing."

Died.

At Magnolia, Scotland Neck, at the residence of his father, James N. Smith, Esq., on Wednesday, the 10th, Mr. Frank J. Smith, after a very short illness.

The Coming Election

Is of very great importance to the people at large, but while the masses are cheering for the candidates of their preference, the agonizing sufferer from the painful disease known as Hemorrhoids or Piles cries for relief. This is will be speedily afforded by the use of Barham's Infallible Pile Cure, manufactured by the Barham Pile Cure Company, Durham, N. C. Price $1.00 a box, sent post paid. Try it and be convinced. *

Run in Connection

With our extensive hardware business, we have unsurpassed facilities for the manufacture of carts, wagons etc. Julius Lewis & Co., Raleigh, N. C. Wagon works on East Hargett street, near city cemetery.

Blindly Groping

For some medicinal alcoholic resuscitant of physical energy, which should take the place of the heady and frequently adulterated stimulants of commerce, the medical practitioners of a quarter of a century ago were elect ified on first observing the reviving effects upo the system of a tonic then recently introduced, but which has since become the most popular medicine sold on this continent, viz.: Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Their astonishment and admiration were increased when experience further disclosed that this botanic remedy effected results which the mineral drugs of the pharmacopoeia often utterly fail d to produce,—among others, the permanent restoration of vigor, the removal of digestive, secretive and evacuative irregularities, and the eradication and prevention of periodic fevers. Speedy recognition of the merits of the Bitters by unprejudiced and enlightened physicians naturally followed this revelation of medical facts, which have since received such frequent and positive confirmation.
